Personal projects | 2021 - present

- REST countries API: I made use of a REST API to get information about the countries of the world. The countries are split into regions and a user can chose to view countries from a certain region. The user can also search for a country via the search bar.
- Buybuy store: This is an online shopping site i used to practice Redux. I designed and developed the site with React, Typescript, SASS and i used axios for API calls.
- IP address tracker: I created a simple IP tracker that made use of an API to return information when an IP address is entered in the search bar.
- Interactive Comment section: I created a comment section where user can post comment, edit it and even delete it. This project uses local storage.
- Chat app: I made use of socket.io to create a chat application.
